Fireworks Printing

You will need:

Black paper or card

Paint (bright colours)

Shallow trays or paper plates

Bendy drinking straws

Pipe cleaners

Sticky tape

Glitter

1. First, make your printing tool. To do this, gather a small bundle of about 8 straws or pipe cleaners.

2. Next, use sticky tape to tape the middle and (non-bendy) ends of the straws or pipe cleaners together to create a handle.

3. Next, bend the ends of the straws or pipe cleaners outwards to create several 'arms'.

4. Create a few firework printing tools for each different colour of paint you are going to use.

5. Next, squeeze a little paint into each tray or plate. Bright and neon colours work especially well! Then, press the 'arms' of the printing tools into the paint and press it onto your black paper.

6. Continue printing using several different colours, overlapping the colours as desired. Once the paint has dried, dab a little glue onto the fireworks and sprinkle on a little glitter.

visit twinkl.com

Fireworks Printing

You will need:

Black paper or card

Paint (bright colours)

Shallow trays or paper plates

Bendy drinking straws

Pipe cleaners

Sticky tape

Glitter

visit twinkl.com

Step 1

First, make your printing tool. To do this, gather a small bundle of about 8 straws or pipe cleaners.

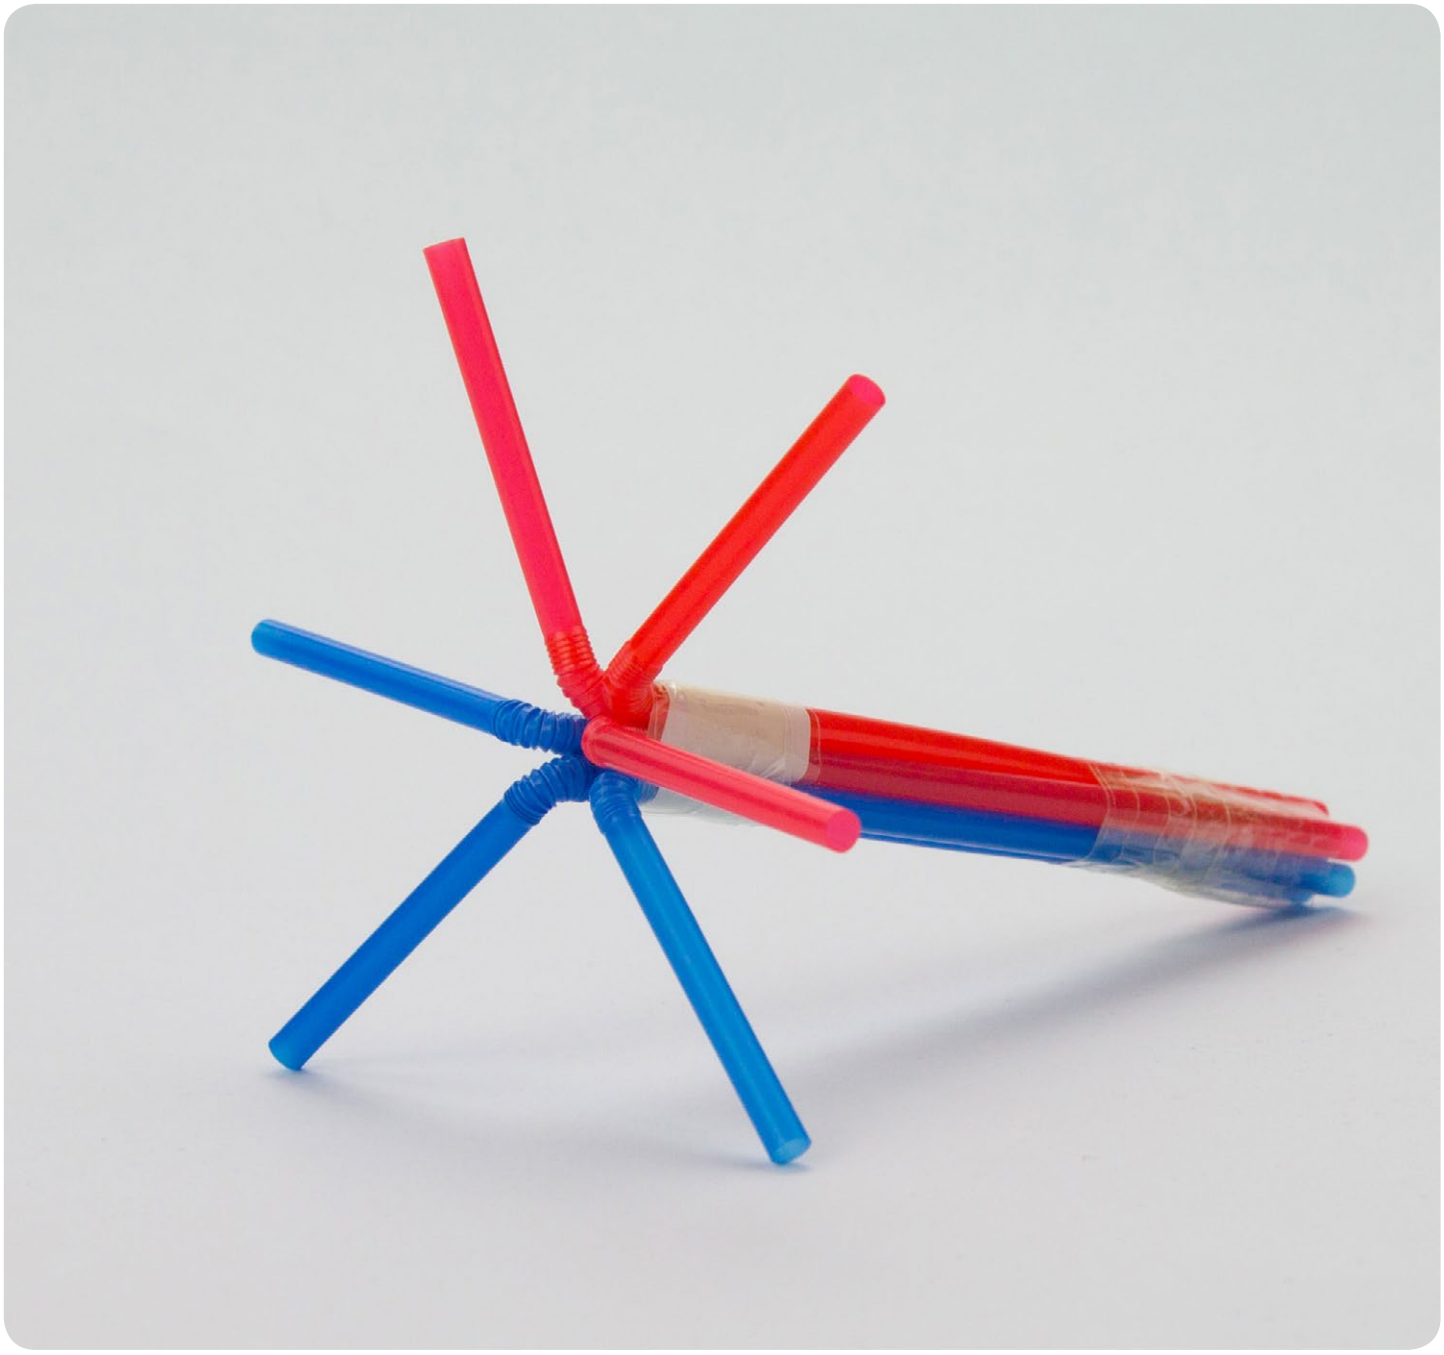
visit twinkl.com

Step 2

Next, use sticky tape to tape the middle and (non-bendy) ends of the straws or pipe cleaners together to create a handle.

visit twinkl.com

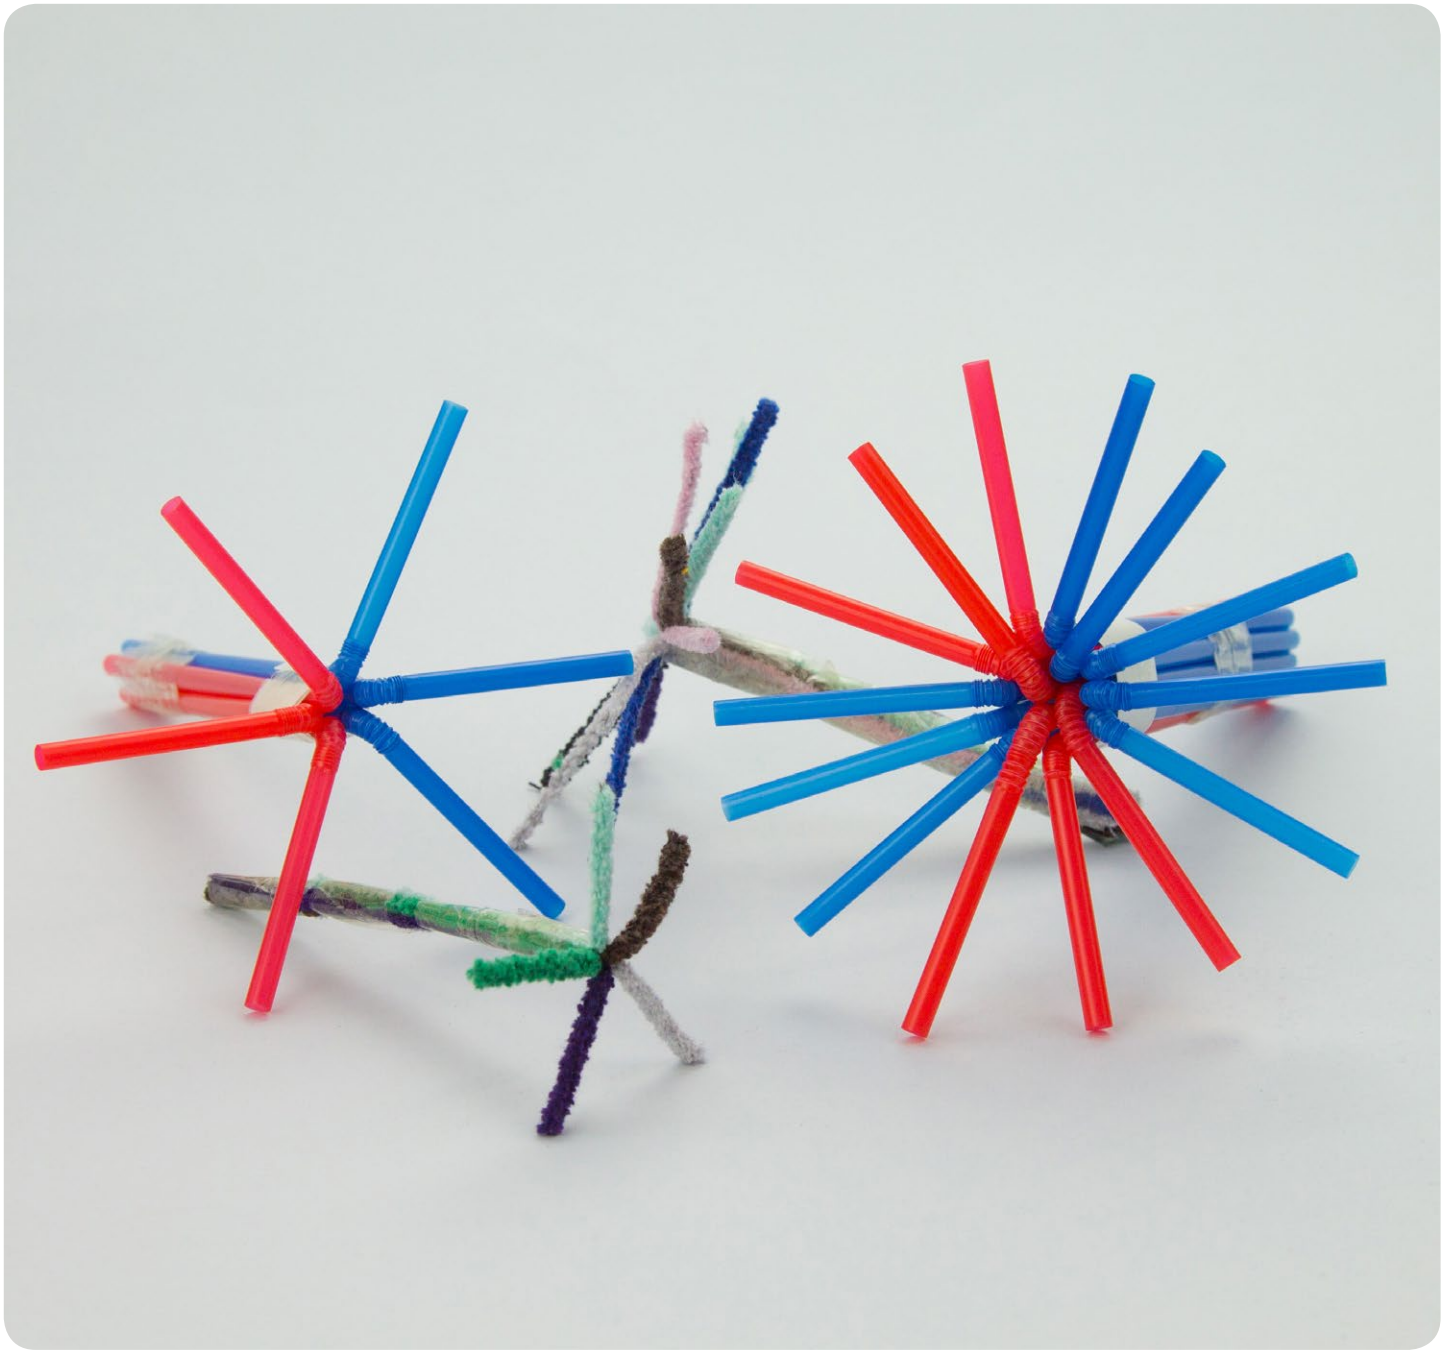
Step 3



Next, bend the ends of the straws or pipe cleaners outwards to create several 'arms'.

visit twinkl.com

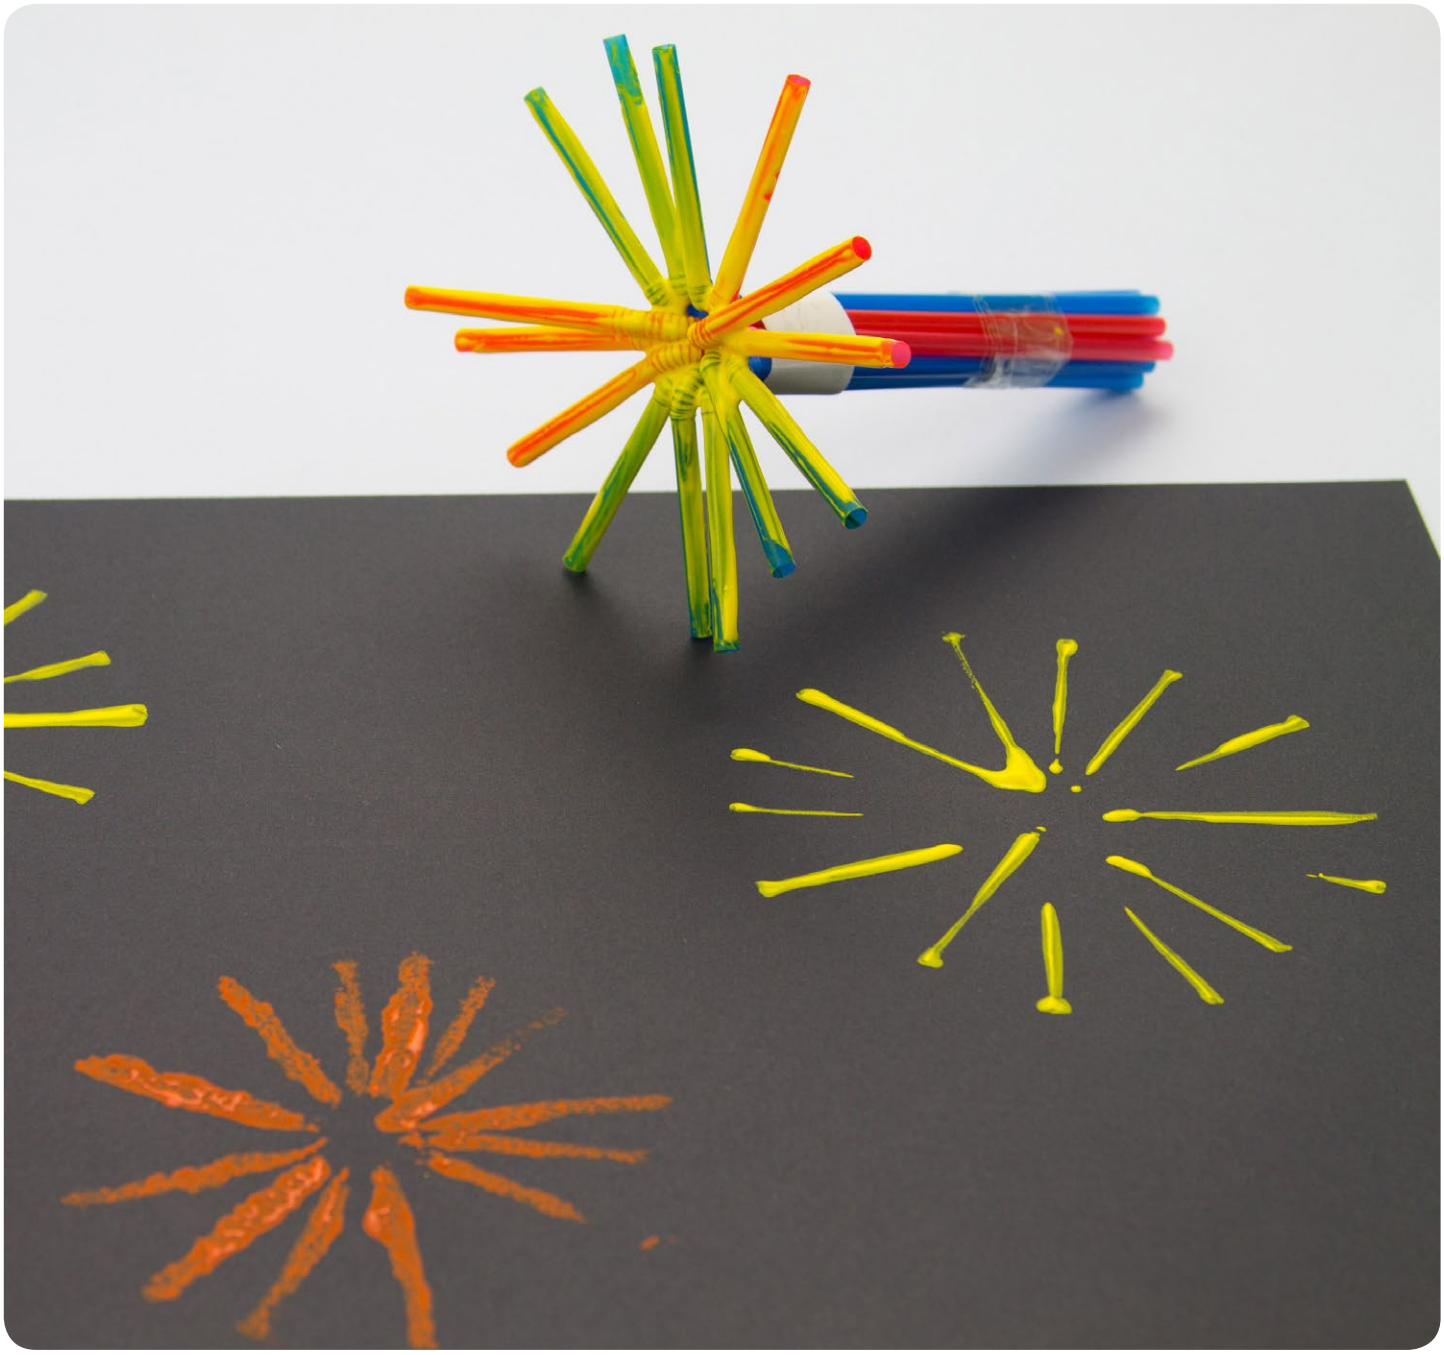
Step 4



Create a few firework printing tools for each different colour of paint you are going to use.

visit twinkl.com

Step 5



Next, squeeze a little paint into each tray or plate. Bright and neon colours work especially well! Then, press the 'arms' of the printing tools into the paint and press it onto your black paper.

visit twinkl.com

Step 6

Continue printing using several different colours, overlapping the colours as desired. Once the paint has dried, dab a little glue onto the fireworks and sprinkle on a little glitter.

visit twinkl.com